Welcome!

The Community Investment Network (CIN) will host its 13th Conference, Philanthropic Activism: Activate, Accelerate, Amplify, on October 4-6, 2018 in Jackson, Mississippi. The Conference is designed specifically for our national network of members, community organizers, change makers, philanthropic professionals, and funders. The conference builds on the momentum of the rise of new thought leaders transforming communities through service on local and national levels. Our conference will empower communities of color to use models of community philanthropy to create change. The conference will also offer insights on how philanthropy can be used to support emerging political, social, and leadership missions.

Our 2018 Conference will offer members and supporters in the field of philanthropy an exciting lineup of professional development opportunities, technical assistance, educational workshops peer-to-peer learning, and networking opportunities for philanthropic, non-profit leaders, and college students. The 2018 program will offer strategic alignments and the application of the best and most promising practices that connects grassroots philanthropy to mainstream philanthropy to work collectively in improving conditions and opportunities in communities of color.

We invite you to Activate, Accelerate, and Amplify the philanthropic movement with us.

See you in Jackson!
